HOT FIGHT MONDAY IN SENATE RESULTS PATRONAGE QUESTION

SENATOR ACCUSES ANOTHER ATTACK ON DEPARTMENT FOR PERSONAL REASONS

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, March 7.—The question of patronage for relatives of Senators injected itself into a fiery debate in the Senate today, with Senator Wood of Williamson county charging that Senator Holbrook of Galveston was fighting the Fish, Game and Oyster Commission tooth and nail because Holbrook's brother-in-law was discharged last week.

The debate arose over a bill by Senator McFarlane to require fishing license of all persons over the age of 17, who fish in other than their home counties.

Holbrook charged that the commission now has a fund of almost a million dollars which it can spend without any regulation or supervision by the governor, attorney general, or the Legislature and that the fish license bill would swell that fund to enormous proportions.

"That fund can be used for any purpose the commission sees fit," he said, "and some day will be one of the greatest political weapons in the State. The commission can use the money to get friends on the payroll. I hope the Senate won't force me to call any names, but I can name men that are on the payroll now getting $150 a month who aren't worth 50c a month."

Senator Wood demanded the names, and when Holbrook did not give them he charged that Holbrook's speech was inspired by anger.

Resolution Fails In Committee

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, March 7.—Squelching a resolution designed to commit the Texas Legislature to criticism of the Federal policy in the Nicaraguan-Mexican situation, the House committee on Federal relations today deplored any tendency to put individual States on record in Federal foreign relations matters.

Vote was 4 to 1 against the original resolution by Representative Pool of El Paso and other Mexican border county representatives, and a modified substitute by Representative Van Zandt, committee chairman.

Experimental Station For Abilene County

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, March 7.—Establishment of an experimental station of A. & M. College near Abilene was approved by the Senate today. The Upper House passed a bill by Senator Smith authorizing such a station within a radius of 20 miles of Abilene for developing the possibilities of the region for pecan and other crops. The bill now goes to the House.

Child Labor Bill Fail in Senate

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, March 7.—Efforts of Senator Love of Dallas to place ratification of the federal child labor amendment before the Senate failed today when his motion was gerald.

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT QUARTER MILLION DOLLARS FROM FLOOD

HEAVY RAINS FELL EARLY MONDAY FLOODING PARTS OF CITY

By Associated Press.
Dallas, Texas, March 7.—Property damage estimated at between $200,000 and $250,000 resulted here Monday from flood waters which covered virtually every low land section of the city. The flood was caused by heavy rains which fell for several hours early today.

Firemen and police responded to calls throughout the morning and carried women and children from houses. Scores of persons were carried from stalled automobiles.

Street cars were stalled on some lines more than four hours and thousands of persons were late to work as a result. Late Monday morning, the LaGow School had failed to open because most of the teachers were flood bound. Another school was closed because the waters were dangerously near and teachers and police turned back the children.

Negroes in the Boggy Bayou began moving out at 5 a. m. Water rose to the roofs of some houses.

HEAVY RAIN OVER COUNTY; FARM WORK IS AGAIN HELD UP

According to the government gauge the rainfall in Corsicana Monday until 2 o'clock was .83 of an inch and reports from all sections of the county indicate a like amount fell over the county.

Rice, Enhouse, Blooming Grove, Frost, Dawson, Richland, Kerens, Powell and Roane were among the places reporting. No material damage was done.

Farming will be stopped several days.

In many sections of the county the farmers were getting well along with their work.

Roads were reported almost impassable in some sections.

In Corsicana the streets were flooded and as the hardest rain fell during the noon hour many suffered much inconvenience in getting to and from lunch.

Wants Session Extended.

By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, March 7.—The Legislature will be asked to stay in session about a week longer than it had planned, in a message to be sent to both Houses by Governor Moody today or tomorrow it was learned today.

Counting Chickens Before They Are Hatched Is More Profitable Than Too Much Cotton.

But counting them AFTER they hatch is more profitable than either.

And we might say the same as to sows and hens.

You CAN WIN with cows, sows and hens—but you CAN'T with too much cotton.

How much is too much? Let your native shrewdness be your guide.

NUMEROUS OPERATIONS AND MUCH ACTIVITY IN SHALLOW FIELD EAST OF CORSICANA

With twelve new derricks up and three rigging up underway on two wells, and with the road one long line of cars and trucks hauling derricks timber to the field, the Chambers Creek district has every earmark of a new field. It was estimated that approximately 5,000 people visited the field Sunday.

Lengthening the field east and west is witnessed in the test of Cranfill & Reynolds, who are drilling a well on the Melton 65 acre tract about a mile east of the Kent Hardy tract. This well was around the 1,150 foot level Monday morning and coring as they drill.

Should this well come in a good producer it will certainly create considerable more interest as very little of the land in this territory is leased to any one person. While west of the creek the Magnolia Petroleum Company and Garland Kent have practically all of the leases, beginning with the creek and covering a number of acres.

The Magnolia Company was running liner on the Stout No. 1, which was watched so closely Sunday. Casing was set around 1,250 feet last week and the well now looks very promising. New locations are being made west and east of this well in case it should be a producer, and many think it will.

Casing was set on the Magnolia No. 5, on offset 300 feet to the south of the No. 3, which continues to flow around 450 barrels a day and the plug is expected to be drilled Tuesday. Casing was set around the 1,360 foot level.

Fast Time Made in Drilling.
The Magnolia Company spudded in on their Hardy No. 4 Saturday and were reported drilling around 800 feet Monday morning. This well offsets No. 3, 300 feet to the west. Another derrick is up 300 feet west of No. 4, and a crew was rigging up Monday morning. This well probably will be spudded in Tuesday. Casing is expected to be set on No. 4 Tuesday below the 1,200 foot depth.

Garland Kent was drilling around 1,100 feet on his Hardy No. 13, an offset 300 feet to the east of the Magnolia No. 3, and casing is expected to be set Tuesday.

A crew was busy rigging up on the Hardy Kent No. 14, an offset 300 feet to the north of the Magnolia No. 3, and was making every effort to spud in Monday.

It was learned that casing was set Saturday on the Hardy Kent No. 12, further down in the creek bottom, which offsets the Hardy No. 10, around the 1,050 foot depth. Casing is still setting on the Kent Hardy No. 11, about 100 feet from the Kerens road near the creek. Casing was set on this well around 1,005 feet.

DeArman Bros. have temporarily shut down on the T. G. Towns No. 1, across the road from the Kent Hardy No. 11. While some were disappointed in this well, others still hold out that it has a good chance yet. Garland Kent has made a new location on the east side of the creek to offset this well in case it should come in.

Derrick Being Built Near City.
Jones et al are building a derrick and preparing to rig up on a farm, which was not learned, west of the Mills & Garitty tract about three miles east of town. It was stated that this well will also go to the 1,700 foot level. It was rumored that Mills & Garitty were contemplating on their No. 130, and foot depth on their other wells, which are now producing from the 1,000 foot sand.

A gang of pipe line men are digging a ditch to the north of the west of wells of Garland Kent and the Magnolia Company. It was reported to be the Magnolia Company crew enlarging the small line running to the main line so as to enable it to care for the supply of oil expected to flow from the wells now in operation.

A new site has been laid off for a field supply house and was said to belong to the Magnolia Company.

Five large truck loads of derrick timber were seen being hauled to the field and turned off of the main road about two miles east of the Chambers Creek.

The Texas Company set 105 feet of surface casing on the Cheney B-1, south of the Powell field and were waiting for cement to harden Monday. The depth of this well is 2,023 feet.

The Sun Company was busy rigging up with a rotary rig on the Swink C-1, in the Richland field now 5,400 feet deep. Salt water was found in this well when bailed recently around this depth. It was stated that casing will be set with the rotary rig below the salt water and then drilling will continue with a standard rig.

TRANSPORT WITH MARINES ABOARD IS DUE CORINTO TODAY

By Associated Press.
Managua, Nicaragua, March 7.—Sixteen hundred American Marines from Quantico arrived at Corinto today on the transport Henderson.

Two trainloads of the men were dispatched immediately along the railway lines to relieve the many Bluejackets temporarily on duty for the protection of the lines of communication and transportation.

Other Marines will be sent to relieve the detachment which left yesterday for Matagalpa, in the interior, while still others will be sent to Masaya, Ascension and other places.

JURY SELECTED TO TRY SINCLAIR FOR SENATE CONTEMPT

Washington, March 7.—Selection of a jury for the trial of Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, on a charge of contempt of the Senate in refusing to answer questions in the Tea Pot Dome investigation, required only a little more than two hours today in the District of Columbia Supreme Court.

The taking of testimony was delayed until tomorrow, however, government counsel announcing that the witnesses had been summoned for that time.

QUARTETTE OF YOUNG MEN DIE IN ELECTRIC CHAIR EARLY MONDAY

By Associated Press.
Rockview, Pa., March 7.—Four men condemned for killing a policeman in an attempted holdup in Philadelphia last May, paid the penalty with their lives in the electric chair in the Western State penitentiary today.

They were Joseph Curry, 29 years; Harry Bentley, 25; William Julian, 27; and Franz Doris, 27, all of Philadelphia.

The men went to their death in the order named, the first being led to the chair at 7 a. m. and the last man was pronounced dead at 7:32.

Curry, as he left his cell for the death chamber, called out "Good-bye" to the other three, who bade him farewell. Beyond this, none of the four had anything to say and went to their death without breaking down.

SUPREME COURT HOLDS FEE SYSTEM FOR JUDGES SHOULD NOT PREVAIL; INDEFENSIBLE

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 7.—The result of the trial In addition to the Ohio case at widespread practice of allowing local peace officers to pocket a percentage of the fines they impose was declared today by the Supreme Court to be indefensible under sound judicial policy.

Holding invalid an Ohio law which permits mayors of municipalities to act as judges in prohibition cases and then draw fees in proportion to the number and amount of the fines imposed, the court declared that every one accused of violating the law had action recommending relieving right to trial before a judge not financially interested in the reform inheritance tax.

Moody Vetoes Resolution.
By Associated Press.
Austin, Texas, March 4.—Governor Dan Moody today declined to court approve a Senate concurrent resolution of violating the law had action recommending relieving right to trial before a judge not financially interested in the reform inheritance tax.

She was taken to the County Hospital and given emergency treatment and then removed to her home. It was not thought that she was seriously injured.

THE RIGHT TO CRITICIZE

An old taunt addressed to political critics was in the form of an invitation to leave the country. You don't like the way things are run here. Then why don't you leave?

If this country is not good enough for you, why don't you look around for one more to your fastidious taste? Happily, that sort of thing has gone out of fashion. Today the public welcomes criticism from the individual, whether citizen or alien, because it betrays a healthful interest in civic matters without which, if one votes at all, one votes not wisely.

However, the political critic comes in for his share of criticism.
 To some all adverse comment is "destructive" or just plain fault-finding. This new taunt is that those who criticize a man in office are inspired to do so by a desire to succeed him.

President Butler, of Columbia University, neatly maintains the thesis that a man may criticize the president of the United States without necessarily wanting to be president himself.

In other fields the rights of disinterested criticism have been fairly well established. A reviewer may find fault with a book without being charged with thinking himself capable of writing a better one. Art critics can criticize paintings without knowing how to paint. But the resentment against the fault-finder has lingered longer in the realm of political discussion.

One of the reasons the United States has a government "of the people, by the people and for the people" is because the people have always been free to criticize it, to find and remedy its faults and to tell those in public office when their services are unsatisfactory.

Building permits in Corsicana showed a decided increase for the month of February. Indications are that there will be a large amount of buildings in this city during the next few months. Corsicana is undergoing a steady and healthy growth. It is an ideal place in which to live and has much to offer the homeseeker and the investor.

Regardless of your personal differences there is only one solution for the problem of advancement now facing Navarro county and that is the construction of a system of hard surfaced highways. The delay is costly and the longer the delay the more the cost.

Cole Blaise says within two years as a community investment there is nothing that will offer greater returns to every resident of the community than will a good roads system. Good roads create prosperity and good will.

Something else that four out of five have acquired at the age of forty is an impression that one tooth paste isn't much different from another, in any vital respect.

In this day of keen competition
 the successful business man has no time to knock the other fellow's business. He is too busy trying to make a success of his own.

A man who failed in six attempts to take his own life finally was rewarded by contracting a fatal disease.

Definition: An imperialist is one who prefers to beat some small fellow's sword into a plowshare.

Some men are born leaders and others never can guess which way
 the crowd is going.

A good road is a good will builder as well as a financial asset.

A man who falls in love with himself never has any rivals.

Too many persons will not let business interfere with play.

ONE OF MOST HECTIC SHORT SESSIONS ON RECORD HAS PASSED

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 4.—Another session of Congress passed into history today to the accompaniment of a senate storm that swept to limbo some of the best laid plans of party leaders.

Chief among the administrative bills to fall of passage was the $93,000,000 deficiency measure, carrying important money allotments for the army, for veterans loans and seed loans to farmers, and for pension increases.

Also consigned to the waste basket were the alien property bill, the postal rate revision bill, and the $15,000,000 appropriation to pay for the first year's work on the new public building program.

But the failure of these projects was not without its saving feature for administration Senators. The favorites dragged down to defeat with them the proposal which had tied Senate procedure in a knot in the closing hours of the session—the resolution of Reed of Missouri to extend the life of his campaign fund investigation.

Blocked by filibuster, the Reed resolution virtually had paralyzed the Senate for three days, and the adjournment hour of noon approached almost frantic efforts to put the proposal aside long enough for passage of the deficiency bill and other pressing measures followed one another in rapid succession.

As one after another failed, Senators worked themselves into a mood that betrayed itself in angry exclamations on the floor. Several times Vice President Dawes called upon the sergeant-at-arms, to restore order.

The battling factions did relax their lines momentarily however, to permit action on several uncontested measures. The proposals thus given approval included the longshoremen's compensation bill and a resolution by Senator Glass, Democrat of Virginia, to investigate charges in connection with the McFadden branch banking bill.

The credentials of Senator-elect Smith of Illinois and Vice President-elect Smith of Pennsylvania were received and placed on file after Reed of Missouri had been assured they would not affect the question of admitting the two Senators-elect to Senate membership.

Walsh Holds Floor.
During the last tense moments Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, held the floor amid shouts of protest from many parts of the chamber attacking those who had killed the Reed resolution.

Then, just before he bawled his gavel down to end the session, Vice President Dawes bitterly assailed the filibuster and declared that "this is the only parliamentary body in the world in which a minority can hold up the will of the majority."

The picture in the House was quite different. Having completed their legislative program long ago, the leaders left the session lag, waiting for noon and listening to farewell speeches.

By Associated Press.
Washington, March 4.—The Sixty-ninth Congress, after one of the most hectic three months' sessions on record, passes into history today, under a constitutional provision calling for sine die adjournment at noon.

Final scenes in the two houses had promised to be as different as day and night, with the Senate groggy from a 37-hour continuous session, featuring filibustering "battalions of death" and parliamentary fencing between its two Reeds, dying before many pending measures are acted upon, and the House finding time to indulge in the customary "good bye" until next December" last minute hubbub.

Both Houses were called to meet unusually early for the final day, the Senate at 8:30 a. m., and the House an hour later.

Little Business in House.
Only a few odds and ends remained to be acted upon in the House, but the Senate, which broke its two days and two-night marathon session at 12:06 a. m., last night by an agreement reached in executive session to recess until early today, still had before it as the unfinished business the filibustered resolution of Senator Reed, Democrat of Missouri, for continuation of his campaign fund committee during the summer recess, opposition against which has held up all other pending legislation.

In view of the stubborn opposition to the resolution by the Republicans, led by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania, there appeared little prospect that a vote would be reached on it or any other pending bills, including the $125,000,000 public buildings authorization, alien property return and second deficiency bills.

Both Houses in Night Session.
Both Houses were in session last night, and for a time the Senate filibuster germ broke out in the House, where, despite drastic rules preventing such tactics, Democrats called for more than a dozen tedious roll calls in an effort to stave off a vote on a resolution to defer for one year operation of the national origins provision of the immigration law. The resolution finally was passed, however, and sent to the President, before the body quit at 10 p. m.

Before sending its blinking membership home early today to come back eight and a half hours later, the Senate virtually cleared its nomination calendar, but indulged in an executive session on a confirmation of the five men appointed for the radio commission.

Three of the five, Rear Admiral W. H. G. Bullard, retired, of Media, Pa.; John P. Dillon, of San Francisco, and Eugene O. Sykes of Mississippi, were approved, and the Interstate Commerce Committee today had planned to consider the nomination of the other two, O. H. Caldwell of New York, and H. A. Bellows of Minnesota.

President Signs Pro Reorganization

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 4.—Among many bills signed today by President Coolidge during the closing hours of the session was the prohibition reorganization measure, creating general bureaus for prohibition enforcement and customs in the treasury department, and putting prohibition agents under the civil service.

Authorizing sale of surplus war department real property. Authorizing regulations of toll rates on bridges across the Red River from Oklahoma to Texas.

Longshoremen's disability compensation bill.

President Goes to Sign Bill.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 4.—Accompanied by General Lord, the director of the budget, President Coolidge left the White House at 10:55 a. m., for the Capitol to sign bills during the last hour of the Congressional session.

Smith-Vare Credentials Received.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 4.—The report of the Senate elections committee, declaring the credentials of Senators-elect William S. Vare of Pennsylvania, and Frank L. Smith of Illinois were in "due form" was presented today to the Senate.

The report was submitted by Chairman Ernst of the committee, and Vice President Dawes ruled no action on it was necessary. It stood, he said, "as received."

No Action on Nominations.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 4.—The Senate Interstate Commerce Committee refused today to take any action on the nominations of O. H. Caldwell, of New York, and H. A. Bellows, of Minnesota, as members of the Radio Control Commission.

These nominations were referred to the committee last night by the Senate after the appointments of the other three members of the commission had been approved.

Some Senators sought to obtain an adverse report against Caldwell and Bellows, but a majority insisted that their nominations go over to the new Senate without prejudice.

President Coolidge may make recess appointments to fill the places if he so desires. There has been opposition to the two appointments on the ground that they were "handpicked" by Secretary Hoover.

Gould Gets Seat.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 4.—The Senate adopted today the report of the Elections Committee holding Senator Gould, Republican, of Maine, entitled to his seat, despite charges of bribing a former premier of New Brunswick, Canada.

Emergency Resolution Passed.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 4.—Anticipating failure of the deficiency appropriation bill in the Senate, House leaders today put through and forwarded to the other end of the capital an emergency resolution to make available nearly $100,000,000 for pensions, veterans' bureau compensation and bonus loans.

But when the resolution reached the Senate less than a half hour before final adjournment, consideration was blocked.

HAY FEVER VICTIMS DUE FOR SUFFERING FROM THE RAGWEED

By the Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, March 4.—With the advent of the ragweed and the swiftly flying pollen which it bears, sufferers from hay fever are due for a rough time, says R. E. McDonald, state entomologist. The other great trouble makers for the hay fever sufferer, the cedar tree, will be a menace no more, the cedar season having ended, he said, but the ragweed is growing swiftly and thousands of persons will doubtless become ill because of it.

Some months ago, J. M. Del Curto, head pathologist, received a number of unexpected answers to letters which he mailed to Texas physicians asking for information on peculiar cases of hay fever which had come under their observation.

One physician said that a man in his town, who had annually been ill with hay fever, was never again afflicted after he had discovered that a particular brand of face powder his wife used seemed to aggravate his trouble, and he ceased to kiss her until she changed this brand.

Another letter recited the experience of a man who sold a horse he had been driving for years and was never there after bothered with the fever, whereas the man who acquired the nag contracted hay fever.

This story, if true, said Del Curto, is probably explained by microbes burrowing in the horse's hair and causing the drivers sickness.

Recess Appointments.

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 5.—President Coolidge today gave recess appointments to O. H. Caldwell of New York, and to Henry A. Bellows, of Minnesota, to the Federal Radio Commission.

NOTED PANHANDLE PIONEER CELEBRATES DAY WITH WEDDING

By Associated Press.

Clarendon, Texas, March 5.—Colonel Charles Goodnight, rugged pioneer of the Southwest and known as the "Father of the Texas Panhandle," celebrated his ninety-first birthday today by taking a bride.

He took as his bride Miss Corine Goodnight, a pretty 26-year-old telegraph operator of Butte, Mont., who for the past five months has been the Colonel's companion.

A year ago following the death of Goodnight's first wife the veteran trail blazer settled down to private life in his ranch house located in the center of the famous Goodnight ranch.

Then came his bride from her Montana home to care for the distinguished plainsman. There is no relationship between the pair. She came at the request of the Colonel. They had become acquainted a few years ago when Miss Goodnight wrote him from Butte after having read a history of his life on the plains.

Several months later the Colonel wrote for Miss Goodnight to pay him a visit. Since her arrival she has been his constant companion.

Colonel Goodnight is perhaps the most picturesque cowboy living in the Southwest today. He settled on the famous Goodnight ranch in 1876 when the Panhandle was but a barren wind-swept plain. Long before he had rounded out many years of service pioneering the ever-moving American frontier during the civil war he patrolled the Mexican border and acted as scout over that vast expanse of country. After the war he began grazing cattle trails through the Southwest among the most famous which was the Goodnight trail which extended from Fort Worth to Fort Laramie, Wyoming. He also established numerous ranches in Texas, New Mexico and Colorado.

Miami, Fla., March 4.—Tomatoes and other tender crops as far inland as ten miles from the East coast were almost wiped out by the frost that penetrated as far as Homestead, 31 miles south of Miami, last night, according to reports received at the United States Weather Bureau here.

Growers near the coast experienced little or no loss. Mr. Gray said.

CASE ORIGINATING IN TEXAS PASSED ON BY SUPREME COURT

By Associated Press.

Washington, March 7.—The constitutional guarantee giving negroes the right to vote applies to primaries as well as general elections in the opinion of the Supreme Court.

Overthrowing a Texas statute under which negroes are prohibited from voting in Democratic primaries, the court found today that even though the primary is not mentioned in the federal constitution, federal jurisdiction is sufficient to bar the states from making primary laws out of harmony with the constitutional guarantee of equal rights for the races.

"States may do a good deal of classifying that it is difficult to believe rational," said the court in a unanimous opinion, "but there are limits, and it is too clear for extended argument that color cannot be made the basis of a statutory classification affecting the rights of citizens in this case."

Texas Statute Held Unjust.
The court said it was not even necessary to take into account the fifteenth amendment, which gives negroes the right to vote, because the injustice of the Texas statute was sufficiently apparent when considered merely in the light of the Fourteenth amendment, which prohibits the states from making any law to abridge the rights of citizens on account of race or color.

"The statute of Texas assumes to forbid negroes to take part in a primary election the importance of which, we have indicated, is discriminating against them by the distinction of color line alone," said the opinion.

The objection that the subject matter of the suit is political is little more than play upon words.

El Paso Negro Brings Suit.
The decision was handed down in the case of L. A. Nixon, an El Paso negro, who sought unsuccessfully in the lower courts to recover damages against election judges who refused to permit him to vote at a Democratic primary election.

Moorefield Storey of Boston, his counsel, told the Supreme Court that 370,000 negro voters in Texas had been excluded as ineligible to participate in Democratic primaries. Nixon himself represented that he had voted the Democratic ticket for years prior to passage of the law.

"That private damage may be caused by such political action and may be recovered for in a suit at law hardly has been doubted and has been recognized by this court," said the opinion.

"If the defendants conducted was a wrong to the plaintiff, the same reasons that allow a recovery for denying the plaintiff a vote at a final election allow it for denying a vote at the primary election that may determine the final result. The important question is whether the statute can be sustained."

"But although we state it a question to answer does not seem to us open to a doubt."

In his opinion Justice Holmes quoted from a former case in which he said:

"That amendment (the fourteenth) not only gave citizenship and the privilege of citizenship to persons of color, but it denied to any State the power to withhold from them the equal protection of the laws. What is this but declaring that the law in the States shall be the same for the black as the white; that all persons, whether colored or white, shall stand equal before the laws of the States, and in regard to the colored race, for whose protection the amendment was primarily designed, that no discrimination shall be made against them by law, because of their color?"

History of Case.
Federal control over State primaries for the selection of party candidates, frequently discussed in Congress, and recently receiving much attention in connection with recent senatorial elections in Illinois and Pennsylvania, was the question before the Supreme Court in an appeal by L. A. Nixon.

The federal district court for western Texas, where Nixon sought $2,000 damages for alleged deprivation of rights under the federal and Texas constitutions, dismissed the suit, holding that no question within its jurisdiction was presented. The Supreme Court was urged, because of the importance of the controversy, to dispose of the appeal on its merits and announce in unqualified terms the exact relationship of "primaries" to "elections."

As analyzed by the court, during oral argument, the controversy was narrowed in all of its constitutional aspects to the question whether party primaries are elections. The constitutional guarantees against discriminating on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude had been annulled, and his rights as a citizen of the United States to "vote" had been abridged. Nixon contended by the law of Texas under which negroes are prohibited from voting in Democratic primaries.

The fifteenth amendment to the federal Constitution was restricted, he asserted, to the right to vote. Democratic primaries in Texas were conducted, he asserted, for the selection of candidates by voting. Declaring that he had long been a Democrat, and had complied with all laws regulating the qualification of voters in the State, including the payment of poll taxes, he declared that the executive committee of his party's organization in Texas by a fiat could lawfully prohibit him and other negroes affiliated with the Democratic Party from voting in party primaries, or that the state legislature could enact a law which would be valid to give effect to such an order.

THREE-CENT HOUSE BILL WOULD BE CUT BY SENATE MEASURE

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, March 4.—Recommendations for a two-cent gas tax were reported favorably to the Senate today by the commission on State affairs. The committee recommended that the House tax bill and registration bill pass, with amendments designed to give the smaller counties more money than they are now receiving and the highway commission enough money to take care of maintenance work and approximately $3,000,000 worth of construction.

The amendments would cut the three-cent tax in the House bill to two cents and would give the counties all of the horsepower registration fee which they now receive, and thirty per cent of the weight tax, with the provision however, that no county would receive more than $50,000 a year. The weight tax provision would not be effective until next year so that the Highway Commission would receive that fee for this year.

The provision limiting counties to $50,000 annually would give the smaller counties a larger sum for roads than they now receive, but would reduce the amount given to the larger counties under the present law.

As the committee estimated the situation the bill would produce about $19,000,000 for the Highway Commission this year and would give the counties only $2,500,000 in place of the $1,000,000 which they would receive under the House bill. Next year, with the weight tax provision for the counties in effect the commission would receive approximately $18,000,000.

Federal Child Labor Ratification Fails

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, March 4.—Efforts to bring the question of ratifying the Federal child labor amendment up on the floor of the Senate failed today when Senator Moore refused to consent to a motion to print the ratification resolution in the Journal.

The resolution by Senator Love, was unfavorably reported by the committee on constitutional amendments and Love sought to make his motion during debate on the bus bill. Such action requires unanimous consent and Moore refused this.

World War Hero Talks to Legislature

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, March 4.—Members of the Legislature heard and cheered Sergeant Alvin C. York, famous American soldier, at a joint assembly of the two Houses today.

Introduced by Governor Dan Moody as the outstanding hero of the World War, York told of his soldier exploits and of his ambition to establish an industrial institute in Tennessee at a site only four miles from the grave of David Crockett, Texas Alamo hero, for the mountain children of his native State.

Lieutenant Governor Barry Miller suggested that "practical patriotism" could be demonstrated by a collection for York's enterprise, and several hundred dollars was contributed by the Legislators and visitors.

"Corsicana Has It."
party in Texas was a private organization, which named itself one of whose functions was to select candidates to be voted for at the general elections, the state of Texas asserted that to deny such an organization the right to lay down its qualifications for membership would be to deny the members fundamental rights as American citizens.

It was well known, the state announced, that the Democratic party in Texas was a white man's party, and that white people have just as much right to organize their own private political party as had citizens generally to vote at general elections.

Law in Question Passed in 1923

By Associated Press.

Austin, Texas, March 7.—The statute prohibiting negroes voting at Democratic primaries ruled unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court was passed in 1923 by the second called session of the Legislature, during Governor Pat M. Neff's administration.

No test of the law's validity has ever in the Supreme Court, as far as those concerned could recall, informed of the Federal Supreme Court opinion Governor Dan Moody said, "Some legislation will be necessary to protect the ballot and give that quantity of good government," the displaced statute was "designed to offer." The Governor expressed the opinion that since the "Democratic party is a voluntary organization, certainly laws can be passed giving the committees of the party the power to prescribe rules as to who can participate in a party primary."

"While such a statute may violate the fourteenth Federal constitutional amendment," Moody continued, "certainly the Legislature can give to the committees of the party the power to fix qualifications for participation in a Democratic primary, and the same will be reached as by the statute."

"I take it that such a provision will not

PREVENTION OF DISEASE

(Clippings from Hygea published by the American Medical Association and furnished the Daily Sun by the Navarro County Medical Association.)

SYMPATHY NOT SO GOOD FOR INJURED WORKER

The World War revolutionized all branches of medicine, but nowhere was its effect more striking than in the field of orthopedic claims.
Dr. Fred H. Albee in Hygeia for March. Orthopedics deals with the correction and prevention of de-formity and the treatment of chronic diseases of the bones, joints and neuro-muscular system.

The task of the orthopedic surgeon is to reconstruct the injured portions of the body and, if that is impossible, to adjust the patient to changed conditions so that he can still be a useful and contented citizen. This represents three distinct problems: the problem of treatment; the sociological problem—the relation of the injured laborer to society; and the medicolegal problem of properly applying the workmen's compensation act.

This act was designed to prevent the injured workman, ambitious to provide for himself and family as soon as possible, from returning to work too soon. Unfortunately it does not always work out as planned, but tends to break the worker's morale and make him dependent for the rest of his life on the stipend he receives as compensation for his injury.

Sympathetic family and friends
increase his emotional state of fear and anxiety. Unless his case is controlled from the psychologic standpoint as well as the physical, the compensation law will react to his detriment rather than his benefit.

PROVIDE PROPER PLACE FOR THE LAUNDRY WORK

Laundrying plays an important part in maintaining cleanliness, so necessary to health, decency and good moral tone, declares Grace Marian Smith in Hygeia for March.
A proper place should be provided, preferably not in the room in which meals are prepared and served.

Handkerchiefs and other especially soiled pieces should be rinsed out before they are put with the rest of the clothes. Soaking the handkerchiefs in salt water helps to dissolve the mucus.

The ordinary family wash carries little danger of infection to the worker. Exposure to sunlight and heat kills most germs readily, and both of these agents play leading roles in laundering. In case of serious contagious disease the physician or health officer will describe methods of caring for articles that have been used about the patient.

Besides renewing one's favorite garments and household furnishings, laundering is a first aid to health, comfort and appearance sanitation. It should not be regarded as a drudgery, nor used as an excuse for laziness. The worker one is properly equipped and trained to do the work satisfactorily.

FIVE WARS BEING WAGED IN U. S. AGAINST DISEASE

The time is gone when one folded one's hands and died in sweet resignation. Nowadays people prefer to live to give dirt and disease and the devil another sock in the eye, declares Dr. Thurman B. Rice in Hygeia for March. Sanitation, epidemiology and immunology are fighting to rout transmissible diseases.

Five campaigns against disease
are being waged in this country:
(1) anti-typhoid and (2) anti-hook-worm against excrement-borne disease, (3) anti-tuberculosis against sputum-borne disease, (4) anti-venereal against contact-borne disease and (5) anti-malarial against the insect-borne infections.

Man has at last presumed to use his own wits to save his precious skin and because of this attitude, Dr. Rice predicts that the further conquest of disease lies in the immediate future.

USE RAIDO FOR HEALTH SERVICE BETWEEN NATIONS

demics in the Far East are collect-means.

Australia is included in the health
news gathered by the Singapore

SOUTH TEXAS ORGANIZING TO SECURE ITS PLACE IN THE SUN WITH OTHER SECTIONS

By the Associated Press.

San Antonio, Texas, March 7.—
South Texas is organizing to secure its place in the sun along with West Texas and East Texas.

A large number of cities and towns from San Antonio south to the Mexican border have formed the South Texas Chamber of Commerce, giving to this section what the East Texas and West Texas chambers are giving to their respective regions.

The organization has been perfected with the election of R. W.
Morrison of San Antonio as president, the appointments of R. H.
Smith of Vernon, as executive vice-president, and Ray Lee-man of Fort Worth, as general manager.

Mr. Morrison, a capitalist, land owner, and public utility promoter of San Antonio, Mr. Smith has had wide experience in chamber of commerce and civic work, and Mr. Leeman was formerly manager of the Fort Worth office of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, and prior to that he was manager of the Mineral Wells chamber.

The body has adopted an unusual form of financial support. The members, which are chambers of commerce and similar organizations, pay an assessment determined by the ratio of each city's population,
its budget, and the taxable wealth,
prevailing in such towns.

The president of each affiliated organization automatically becomes a member of the board of directors, so that each member chamber has one representative on the board regardless of size or of the amount of its assessment.

Definite Objectives

The new organization has launched its program along a few definite objectives, which include immigration, transportation, legislation, and irrigation.

Its declaration of purposes states that the policy is to concentrate upon certain well defined lines of endeavor "rather than attempt to spread its activities over a great many things to which the organization would not be able to give proper attention."

The first big aim is to settle the Mexican immigration problem of South Texas.
"South Texas is confronted," says
a statement from the organization,
"with two problems of immigration of paramount importance. The first of these is the labor problem. The continuously increasing exodus of our Mexican labor to the North and East is bringing about increased activity at Washington on the part of organized labor, demanding more stringent immigration regulations for Mexicans as evidenced by the so-called Box Bill, introduced by Representative Box, which applied to the European quota idea to Mexican immigration, thereby cutting down the number of such immigrants to only a few hundred a year.

Ruin to South Texas
"Mexican immigration, limited by the passage of this bill, and the continued exodus of Mexican labor
would mean ruin for South Texas agriculturally and industrially. Herculean efforts must be taken to prevent the enactment of such a law."

The second immigration problem is obtaining settlers for the section.

The transportation aim of the organization is for better highways and better railroad service for South Texas, while opposing the proposal for state regulation of motor buses. Motor bus transportation is declared to be a vital factor in the development of the section.

Many new irrigation projects are to be fostered by the chamber, encouragement of diversified farming being one of its aims.

Among the commercial secretaries and civic leaders instrumental in founding the new sectional body were the following: R. W.
Morrison, San Antonio; Porter
Whaley, San Antonio; G. C. Richardson, Brownsville; Ralph Bradford, Corpus Christi; J. O. Carrington, Cuero; I. F. Cherry, Beeville;

DALLAS ATTORNEY SAYS U. S. MAKES UNPOPULAR LAWS

ENACT LAWS FIRST, HOPE
TO CREATE SENTIMENT
AFTERWARDS

Special to the Sun.

Dallas, Texas, March 7.—"One of the reasons that law is not enforced in our country as successfully as it is in England is because many of our people do not want law enforcement," is the opinion of A. H.
McKnight of Dallas, ex-president of the Texas Bar Association.

"We often make laws first and then hope to create sentiment supporting them later, but often the people never catch up. In England they let their laws grow out of public sentiment."

"There are many unnecessary laws," Mr. McKnight said, "and many others on our books that would be good laws if they were properly written so that justice could be done through them."

"One of the most important bills
now before the Legislature and one which the Crime Suppression League of Dallas is favoring, which may be passed before adjournment is the bill relating to bail bonds."

Mr. McKnight said, "In many cases at present no one is sufficiently responsible if a bail is broken. The criminal may run away, nobody cares particularly. The amended bill will hold the officer who takes bail; persons traveling 350 to 449 miles will be allowed rates of one-and-one-half fares; persons journeying from 450 to 499 miles will be allowed rates of one and one-tenth fares; and persons travelling over 500 miles will be allowed a rate of one fare plus $1.00."

These special rates are expected to constitute an inducement which will be reflected in increased attendance at the convention.

sale April 18-19-20, and for all trains arriving in Tyler on the morning of April 21. The return tickets will be good on all trains reaching the original starting point to April 24.

Rates for the convention have been worked out on a zone basis.
That is, a person coming from a point 300 miles away will pay a rate of one and one-half fares for the round trip; persons journeying from 300 to 349 miles will be allowed rates of one and one-third fares; persons traveling 350 to 449

FARMERS WHO LIVE AT HOME CONSIDERED SUCCESSFUL MEN

BANKERS OF STATE SEND IN NAMES OF LIVE-AT-HOME FARMERS

A successful method of acquainting Texas farmers with their bankers throughout the state has been acquired by "Live-At-Home" letters issued by the Agriculture Department of the Southern Pacific Company, according to a letter to the local Chamber of Commerce.

There are at least 675 successful farmers in Texas that are personally known to 79 bankers and their success is largely due to practicing Live-At-Home methods. This was made known in a statement before about 500 farmers and high school pupils gathered at Rosebud recently to attend a short course of the International Harvester company.

In this statement, it was told how and why this list of farmers' names had been collected. Live-At-Home Letters didn't want to rely entirely on recognized authorities, bankers, or even on our beloved A. and M. College. These letters wanted the farmers to speak for themselves.

So each of the 79 bankers was asked to send the names of a few successful farmers; in that way 675 names and addresses of Live-At-Home farmers were collected. Then we wrote to these farmers and asked them to tell about their farms and farm plans. Only a few days have passed since we wrote farmers, but already 64 replies have been received. Quotations from these letters will be made from time to time, but in this letter there is given a kind of summary of those 64 replies from farmers.

Facts Shown by These 64 Letters
Farm Ownership.—There were 54 who had fully paid for their farms and several had bought additional land. One was a renter but his letter indicated he might soon be a land owner. The others had owned their farms but a few years. The smallest farm was 22 acres, the largest 700, and the average 187 1-2 acres.

Feed Crops.—There were 59 of these farmers who raised all their feeds; 3 more who raised partly enough; one more usually did, and the other one "mostly" did.

Hogs Grown for Meat.—There were 62 of these farmers who raised enough hogs to make their meat.

Dairy Cows.—There were 63 of these farmers who kept enough cows to furnish milk and butter and one more "usually" did so.

Poultry.—All of these farmers had enough chickens to supply their needs and quite a few raised turkeys.

Good Gardens.—All of these farmers had good gardens—only 3 making such remarks as "usually," or "average."

Surplus Feeds, Foods, Milk, Butter, Chickens, Eggs and Vegetables.—Every one of the 64 farmers had a surplus of one or more of these things, but the amount of the surplus varied—18 had more than enough to procure all their other supplies; 23 had enough to get their surplus; 13 "usually" had enough; the other 3 had partly enough.

HOW IMPORTANT IS OPTOMETRY?

Investigation has proven that about half the population would be benefited by the services of the optometrist. The optometrist does not prescribe for diseased conditions of the eye—Not though he is often able to detect them, and may recommend that the patient consult a physician. Errors of vision are often present when the patient is not aware of it. Yes, they are often responsible for much distress without the patient recognizing the cause. (To be Continued.)

DELEGATES ANNUAL REUNION NAMED FOR LOCAL CONFEDERATES

INTERESTING MEETING CAMP WINKLER, U. C. V., SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The Confederate Veterans met in regular business session Saturday, March 5, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Quite an interest was manifested by those present as this was the occasion for electing delegates and formulating plans for the U. C. V. Reunion to be held in the beautiful city of Tampa, Florida, April 5-8. The hospitable city of Tampa is making great preparations to make this reunion rank with former meetings, notwithstanding the diminishing number of veterans. Everything possible will be done for the comfort and entertainment of the soldiers.

All railroad lines are giving a wonderfully cheap rate to veterans, sons of Veterans, daughters of the Confederacy and members of the families of Confederate Veterans. The rate from Corsicana via Cotton Belt and Southern Pacific to Tampa will be $20.70 round trip for Confederate Veterans.

Several interesting side trips will be provided for veterans and visitors to Tampa. One of the most inviting will be an excursion to Panama, Cuba, round trip $35.00.

The following were elected as delegates and alternate to Confederate Reunion:

J. Hook and A. D. Terrell, delegates; A. P. Webster and J. R. Pollack, alternates.

Another important matter that merits the attendance of all Confederate organizations was discussed and voted on at the United Confederate Veterans demand that steps be taken to perpetuate this organization so that its memories and records, traditions and achievements may be handed down to posterity.

The "Grey Line" is thinning fast and the time is rapidly approaching when it will not be possible for Confederate Veterans to transact business to the best interest of the organization, due to age and infirmity.

For this reason a plan will be submitted to the reunion at Tampa whereby the affairs of the Veterans of the Confederacy will be made perpetual for all time; this plan to provide that as long as a Confederate Veteran is left, the honorary president of the Association shall be a Confederate veteran. The active president shall be either a son of a Confederate veteran or a daughter of the Confederacy.

The delegates for Camp Winkler were instructed to vote for this plan at the reunion.

After the meeting was dismissed the veterans were invited to go to the studio of Mrs. Tessie Dickson, where a picture was made of the body. Mrs. Dickson is a good and faithful friend of the Confederate Veterans of Camp Winkler having in the past won their love and friendship by acts of kindness. At one time a picture of the command of the camp, A. J. Hook, was made by Mrs. Dickson and later was printed in the Daily Sun through the courtesy of the generous owners of that paper.

The Adjutant for Camp Winkler will be glad to give further information concerning the reunion or sign certificates to secure rates for those so desiring.

Taxes on Earning Basis, Farmers Plan

By the Associated Press.

Indianapolis, March 7.—Indiana farmers have a very definite plan for tax reduction, which in some cases will halve their assessments.

Their own tax measure has passed the senate and is before the lower house of the state legislature, and with a three-fourths majority in the senate and two-thirds in the house the farm group has announced its intention to pass the measure over the state tax board's objections and, if necessary, over the veto of Governor Ed Jackson.

When the bill has been ironed out by amendment, it will be pressed for final enactment with these provisions:

1. Designation of earning power instead of market value as the determining factor in real estate assessment.

2. Limitation of tax collections to $2 on each $100 of taxable property, and in no instance to more than 20 per cent of the normal annual net income produced by property dependent for value upon its earnings.

3. Right of appeal from state tax board decisions on assessment disputes.

"All urban real estate depends on income production for its value," asserts Representative Charles M. Trowbridge, leader of the house farm bloc. "All agricultural property should be on the same basis. It is now assessed for more than it would sell for."

State tax board officials say that many less wealthy taxing units would be crippled by the limitation of tax collections to $2 a hundred, compelling schools to close, paralyzing police functions and even radiating public indebtedness, but farmers are adamant. Some tax rates in Indiana are now as high as $4.50 or $5 per $100 of taxable property.

The right of appeal from tax board decisions is demanded by the farmers to free them from alleged discrimination against agricultural property as a class. This central board, vested with arbitrary powers, makes final decisions under the present law in all tax assessment disputes.

IMPORTANT MATTERS FACE DIRECTORS OF CHAMBER COMMERCE

Reports of progress of the citizens' highway committee, matters relating to current business legislation and invitation to several Texas convention are among items slated for attention of the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

These regular directors meetings are open to the membership and President Sydney Marks extends an invitation for any person to attend who is interested or has some suggestion to make for the community's growth or betterment.

When my brother in Cleveland is separated from his garage by snow five feet deep, I'm covering hundreds of sunshiny Texas miles in my car, coatless and carefree.

When my brother in Minneapolis is keeping the furnace roaring, I'm working at my desk beside an open window.

Back of the awe-inspiring buildings of the Lone Star State, above the marvelously productive soils, roundabout this industrious race of developers called Texans, is a resource that is worth inestimable billions.

Where is the financier, where is the statistician, where is the economist, where is the census bureau that can compute the value of the incomparable Texas climate?

Frequently, and truly, it is said that America owes a large part of her unparalleled prosperity to the motorcar. "Good times" in the United States goes about on rubber tires. Industry and agriculture ride in automobiles and are happy.

But up yonder where the frost nips, ears freeze, ice forms thick, snow falls, toes numb, and the days are cloudy and damp and the winter outstays its welcome—up in the polar bear region of New York and Ohio and Michigan and Indiana—a good car goes wrong in its own garage. Tires deteriorate from sheer exhaustion while waiting to work. Batteries give up the ghost in futile attempt to turn stiff and stubborn motors. About five thousand a year is the average mileage of one of those unfortunate cars operating under winter handicaps.

Look, on the other hand, at the antics of the frolicsome Texas automobile, which makes 9000 or more miles every 12 months. And such miles and such cars as they are? Texas cars are strict Volsteadians—they require little or no alcohol.

A Texas law requires a muffler for every little roadster, every fat limousine, but not out of fear of colds on pneumonia. No, indeed; the muffler is for the purpose of suppressing the natural whoops of happiness coming of good roads, perfect weather, a cloudless blue sky, gorgeous sunshine and road-side flowers and songsters.

Texas is no exception to the automobile and prosperity partnership, here, indeed, the partnership never goes into hibernation, never suspends, never dissolves for a season. All year long pleasure cars and business motors, trucks and busses, clug and whir and honk and whiz. Gasoline flows in at one end and dollars pour out at the other. More than a million licensed vehicles coin their quotas of wealth 365 days in the year with greater regularity than the United States mint.

It is the advantage that Texas climate gives to honest working cars that is largely responsible for this State passing so many contemporaries on the road to industrial, agricultural and trade supremacy.

In other respects than automobiles Texas temperatures read by dollars as well as by degrees. The laboring man has work the year round. There is no cessation of building projects because of excessive cold. There is no discomfort for the outdoor worker. Fuel and clothing costs are sliced in two. Fewer calories per day are required to keep the human body functioning.

At this point we collide briskly with the health factor of the wonderful Texas climate. Instead of seven, eight or nine months of fresh air and sunshine, Texans enjoy a full year of purest ozone. New babies, young children, people of every age, drink in the crisp, zestful invigorating Texas oxygen 364 days between birthday cakes and sponge up ultra-violet rays with prodigious freedom. There is no confinement behind storm windows, no shivery hugging of stoves, in Texas Old Sol paints his landscape golden and Jack Frost is a rare intruder on the canvas.

The youngster crop has a long growing season, and children make all outdoor their regular nursery. Do you billis are given a knockout blow by the best M. D. ever known, the sunshiny Texas climate.

One of the reasons for the virlousness of the wallow handed ordinary practitioners is the vitamin family. This vitamin family is a peppy bunch in Texas, for it romps among fresh vegetables, juicy fruits and rich milk. Texas pastures are always green. That is why Texas cows are so comparatively free from tuberculosis and other diseases propagated in winter-closed barns of many section of the United States.

Spot a Texas lassie and sing the words of the old song, "Mary, Mary, quite contrary. How does your garden grow?" and she is sure to trill back the cheerful answer, "Very, very, well sir." For in Texas the garden seasons number four, with no intermission between. Clock-full of vitamins, it is perhaps natural that the he-males and she-males should feel an impulse to punch somebody, or something, a terrific and joyous punch. The victim more often than not is a luckless golf ball.

Of late years exposure to the incomparable Texas climate has caused an extensive breaking out of golf links. All over this vast state, from Texarkana to El Paso, club-houses have popped up, and the click of driver on polio has become like the rapid ticking of an alarm clock. This rapid ticking, or clicking, is calling thousands of potential rheumatics to the fairways at five in the morning. It is saving countless scores from the fate of an innocuous desuetude.

It is rumored that certain other states, statistically minded, are given to talking about their "mean" temperatures. Texas, thank goodness, has no "mean" temperatures. For the most part she is distinctly sweet-tempered and sweet-temperated. Her ups and downs are comfortable flights. There are a good many steps between the highs and lows of the Panhandle and the highs and lows of the Rio Grande Valley, just as Texas attitudes vary by thousands of feet. Every Texan to his own taste, with temperatures as with soils and rainfall and topography. Texas is lavish in the variety of its blessings.

If you want an average January temperature of 55, a whopping big chunk of Texas is ready to serve you. If you have a hankering for an average July reading 75, this same wonder state can fill your order perfectly. If you have in mind a dream of summer nights fanned by a cool gulf breeze, you need not be particular as to the place in Texas where you shall lay your head. Nearly anywhere, if you retire early, 9 o'clock will see you reaching for a blanket.

When it comes to climate Texas is entitled to enjoy a superior complex. No sunstrokes. No chills. Vast coastline, yet few severe storms. A summer resort, a winter resort. Flowers in January. May in December and June in August.

Texas climate has gone too long unheralded to the world. It can be fully appreciated only by the traveler who has lived in many climes, who has dwelt in tropics and in blue-nosed North alike, who has vainly sought the happy medium until he found Texas.

PRAISES OF TEXAS CLIMATE SUNG BY MAN WHO KNOWS REALITIES OF GREAT STATE

The following paen of praises to the Climate of the Lone Star State appeared in the last issue of the Manufacturers' Record of Baltimore and was written by Wellington Brink of Dallas. It is sufficiently good to pass along to the readers of this paper, and is as follows:

DAYTONS are different. Public opinion in Texas has acknowledged that they stand head and shoulders above the average tire on the market. Some balloon tires, for instance, have side walls which break down under the buffeting of fast driving on the low air pressure which balloons carry. Their treads wear unevenly and rapidly. Dayton Stabilized Balloons contain none of these objectionable features. At the same time they emphasize all those attractive elements which have made the balloon tire so popular.—Safe and Easy Steering, Smooth Motion, Remarkable Mileage due to a specially treated and wear resisting tread. Daytons are indeed Revolutionary Balloon Tires.

TAKE A LOOK at a Cross section of a Dayton Stabilized Balloon and you will see the difference in construction; put a set on your car and you will notice the difference in performance. In materials and in workmanship, the Quality, the Super Comfort, and the Amazing Mileage are unparalleled. Not ONE Dayton in a thousand ever blows out. They wear on down to the last few layers of cord fabric, after delivering from 5000 to 10,000 excess mileage above the nearest competitors on the market. These are facts for you to think about. Ask some friend whose car has worn Daytons and you will find him enthusiastic about their puncture resisting quality, and their excess mileage records.
